APPELLATE COURT HANDS DOWN A DECISION OF INTEREST

There are About Fifty Cases in the bedgwick County District Court Which May be Affected-It is Generally Believed That the Case Will be Carried to the Supreme Court-Workmen Liable to a Fine of Not Less Than $50 Nor More Than $1,000 if He Works Over Eight

The appellate court of the northern district of Kansas recently gave a decision on the eight-hour law, in which they hold that an employe is the guil'y party if he works more than eight hours and that he cannot recover because of his own wrong. The decision that follows is construed from chapter 114 of the session laws of 1891. The law as interpreted by the three judges, Mahan, Mc-Elroy and Wells, it would seem, makes it possible for the workman to be fined not less than $50 nor more than 1,000. As there are something like fifty cases of a similar nature now pending before county this fall and lay his plans to state craters that they want to, it wen't the Sedgwick county district court, the The case which brought out the decisboard of commissioners of Marshall county.
